Kennedy Taps General Taylor

New Military Aide Faces Berlin Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — The crisis over Berlin stands out today as Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor's first big problem when he dons his Army uniform again Saturday to become President Kennedy's military adviser.

The White House announced Monday that the 60-year-old former Army chief of staff and World War II paratrooper commander is being recalled to active duty.

His assignment: Kennedy's adviser and staff officer primarily within the military and intelligence fields.

One of Taylor's first tasks, it was understood, will be to review planning on what measures to take in the growing crisis over Soviet Premier Khrushchev's drive to push the West out of Berlin.

The Berlin problem is an old one for the four-star general who retired two years ago in protest against the Eisenhower administration's defense policies. Taylor was U.S. commander of Berlin during the 1949-51 period and again wrestled with the Berlin problem during his four years as Army chief of staff before leaving military service in 1959.

Views of the outspoken general have been widely publicized. For example:

Berlin — "Berlin is defensible through our clear determination to go all out, if necessary, in any kind of a military operation which might be required by the situation. Berlin can be defended, and in my judgment it must be defended," he said in Senate testimony in March 1959.

Soviet power — "In the next four or five years there will be a dangerous imbalance of military strength in favor of Soviet Russia. It seems incredible that the Soviets will not capitalize in some way on their over-all superiority," he said in a Chicago speech 14 months ago.

Four Receive Minor Injuries In Collision

Four area persons received minor injuries in a two-car accident at 8:30 p. m. yesterday at the intersection of Pickaway and Watt Sts.

Howard M. Allison, 20, Route 1, Ashville, driver of one vehicle, and his passenger, George Seymour, received bruises of the arms and legs. Both refused hospital treatment.

The second vehicle, driven by Mack Shaw, 36, Route 4, and his passenger, Ricky Shaw, 14, were taken to Berger Hospital.

The driver was treated for lacerations of the left arm and contusions of the left leg. The passenger was treated for contusions of the forehead and abrasions of the right wrist and elbow. Both were released.

ALLISON was driving south on Pickaway St. Shaw was headed east on Watt St. Each said he had the green light and the right of way.

City Patrolmen Wesley Barton and Gerald Goldsberry said no arrests were made.

Officer Finds Boy, 12, Chained to Bed in Home

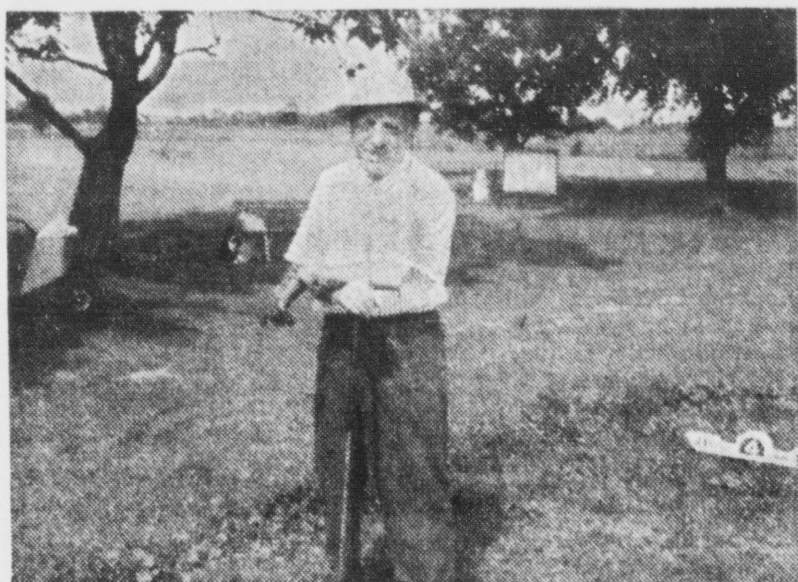

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—An officer found Roy Dean Hall, 12, chained to a bed in the youngster's one-room home Monday.

The boy's sister, Jeanette Hall, 15, said their parents had been chaining Roy the last 10 days while the father was working as a trash hauler and the mother as a baby-sitter.

Roy Hall, 48, and his wife, Margaret, 45, were arrested when they returned home and were held for investigation. The children were taken to the Jackson County Parental School.

TED VISITS HERE — Back in his home town for a short visit, famous performer Ted Lewis displays his characteristic assuredness as he tackles the difficult fourth hole on Pickaway Country Club's golf course. Ted avoided the water hazard and shot the hole under-par. (Staff Photo)

A Busy Ted Lewis Takes Day To Check Home Town Activity

By RON COFFMAN

Circleville's most famous representative to the entertainment world returned yesterday for a fond — but necessarily brief — jaunt through memory lane.

Ted Lewis, the master impresario of American show business for the past half-century, arrived to renew a few long-standing friendships in his native community Monday.

Lewis, on his way to Columbus after an engagement in Indianapolis, detoured by way of Circleville "just to check in on the old town."

Hosts for Ted's short visit were two close friends, Mayor and Mrs. Ben H. Gordon, Northridge Road.

One of the first items on the veteran trouper's agenda was a trip to the outdoor recreation center which bears his name.

LEWIS, who maintains an active interest in local affairs, commented that Ted Lewis Park looks in good shape. He added that he was pleased at the use the park was getting.

After visits with several other friends, Lewis drove to Pickaway Country Club to try his hand at whipping the local golf course. His score was not disclosed, but Ted, trim and agile in his 70th year, displayed enough finesse and power in his game to convince PCC observers that he was no Sunday duffer.

Lewis will remain at his brother Milton's home in Columbus for about a week. After that, he hits the road once again for appearances in Milwaukee, Omaha and an extended booking in New Orleans.

Circleville's pride still works a year-around schedule in the entertainment profession. He also, with a gleam in his eye, fires back a vigorous "Sure. Why not?" to young people asking his opinion on their chances for fame and fortune in life.

Lewis, before chugging off in the golf cart in pursuit of a powerful drive over the north hole water trap, added the thought that "remaining alive — that is, being active — is the most important thing to do."

What better proof of that can be offered than Mr. Me-and-My-Shadow himself.

Old Reliable Redstone Ends Test Series

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Redstone, the "old reliable" rocket which became America's first big ballistic missile, satellite booster and man-in-space vehicle, has ended its military test program after eight years.

The slender, 69-foot rocket experienced its final practice firing as a military weapon Monday night and it performed in characteristic fashion, smacking a target 200 miles down the Atlantic Range. The Army reported the success, 41st in 45 test launchings.

Only three more Redstones are scheduled to be fired from the Cape. These are modified rockets which will hoist three human astronauts on suborbital space flights similar to that of Alan B. Shepard Jr. on May 5. Shepard's space capsule hurtled 116 miles high and 302 miles down range.

As the Redstone blazed into a cloudy Florida night, Navy technicians sought the cause of a Polaris missile failure earlier in the day.

A second-stage malfunction plunged the Polaris into the ocean far short of its intended 1,600-mile goal after it was launched from a tube in the deck of the USS Observation Island. The missile-firing ship was cruising about seven miles off the Florida shore.

The failure was only the fourth in 13 firings of the "second generation" Polaris A2 model.

Marion To Head Ohio Farm Agency

A. W. Marion, a native of Circleville, has been named Ohio Director of the Farmers' Home Administration effective July 3. Marion grew up in Circleville, where his parents operated a greenhouse.

After graduating from Circleville High School almost 30 years ago he left to enter government service.

He is former Ohio agriculture director and director of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

The appointment was announced by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman.

Marion, who once owned and operated farms in Hocking County, succeeds Howard C. Goddard of Urbana, Champaign County, in the Ohio post.

He had served as agriculture director and later as director of natural resources under former governor, now Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio.

The Farmers' Home Administration makes loans to eligible farmers who can't get credit elsewhere.

Cost of Living Shows Slight Dip during May

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living dipped one-tenth of one per cent in May because of lower meat and grocery bills, the Labor Department reported today.

At 127.4 per cent of the 1947-49 consumer price average, the index has not fluctuated up or down by more than a small fraction in the last eight months.

Sea Strike Study Report Awaited

NEW YORK (AP)—A fact-finding board meets today to speed a report on the maritime strike to President Kennedy. The report could be the crucial step in halting the 12-day-old strike under the Taft-Hartley law.

The three-man board gathered in response to a reluctant SOS from Kennedy, who voted against the Taft-Hartley law as a congressman in 1946 but invoked it Monday on the grounds the strike imperils national security.

The fact-finders scheduled a meeting with "all principals in the dispute."

Union leaders involved in the strike reacted to the move with displeasure, skepticism that the strike really poses a threat to the nation and warning that even an 80-day cooling-off period under the law would fail to cool off the strikers.

Many of the owners of the 200-odd ships that have been tied up in Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coast ports, welcomed the news and promised the President full cooperation.

Creation of the Inquiry board was the first step under the Taft-Hartley law for the settlement of strikes considered national emergencies. The board was instructed to report its findings to the President Friday.

Kennedy can then instruct the attorney general to seek an injunction in a federal court. The judge must grant at least a temporary injunction for an 80-day cooling-off period.

Labor leaders did not expect that an injunction would be issued before July 5, and they expressed confidence it would not be a permanent injunction.

Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union one of the six striking unions, said an 80-day injunction could lead to a much worse shipping strike next fall, when the injunction expired.

"Sailors can't be pushed around," he said.

Ralph E. Casey, president of the American Merchant Marine Institute, which represents many ship owners, said "our industry will, of course, give full cooperation."

In setting up the fact-finding board, Kennedy said a supply line to Hawaii had been cut by the strike and that shipments of military cargoes had been delayed.

The President, invoking the law with reluctance, said the maritime strike had proved again the need for more flexible procedures to handle a national strike.

Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg, whose report on the strike preceded the President's order, felt a clear distaste for the use of the Taft-Hartley law. As general counsel to the United Steelworkers Union in 1959, Goldberg had waged a long fight against President Eisenhower's use of the law in trying to end a steel strike.

Kuwait Alert To Iraq Threat

Little Oil-Rich Area To Join Arab League

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—A Kuwait official said a state of emergency was proclaimed today in that oil-rich little sheikdom, menaced by Iraq's bold bid to annex it. The army was reported ordered to the border, so far quiet, to curb any invasion.

Abdel Aziz Hassan, Kuwait's director of education, announced these precautions in Cairo, where he is to submit the sheikdom's application for membership in the Arab League. Membership would give it equal footing with Iraq and other sovereign nations in Middle East councils.

The league's acting secretary-general, Dardiri Ismail, said that before the league considers Kuwait's application Secretary General Abdel Khalek Hassana will attempt to settle the Kuwait-Iraq dispute.

Saudi Arabia has already proclaimed support of Kuwait, Kuwait's ruler, Sheikh Abdullah Al-Salim As-Sabah, was seeking additional backing to bolster the independence Britain had pledged to protect.

"I expect the U.A.R. government to issue an official statement Wednesday supporting Kuwait's stand," Hassan said.

Diplomatic sources said league leaders also are taking a grave view of the claim by Iraq's ambitious Premier Abdel Karim Kassem. The little sheikdom has 200,000 people.

Iraq's claim of sovereignty set off violent demonstrations in the little country, for 62 years a British protectorate, wedged between Iraq and Saudi Arabia.

"Even Iraqis living in Kuwait participated in the demonstrations," Hassan said.

King Hussein of Jordan, responded to Sheikh Abdullah's call for help in maintenance of Kuwait's legal rights. "Jordan has always been and will continue to be a supporter of truth and justice," said Hussein's answer.

It came up when the C&O offered Mayor Charles A. Mobley of Flint, Mich., as a witness.

Mobley said Flint—second largest city in Michigan—is supporting the C&O application, adding: "If affiliation with the C&O will benefit the B&O, then Flint will benefit, too. We are interested in a strong transportation system as we can get."

Brooks then asked Mobley: "If the record shows that this combination will destroy the New York Central, would your position be the same?"

"What do you mean by 'destroy'?" asked examiner John L. Bradford.

"I mean if the proposal would bankrupt Central," replied the New York Central attorney. "I want the witness to tell me if his position would be the same."

Mobley said he would have to refer the question to the city commission.

He added: "I think anyone would look with proper concern about the destruction of a railroad. I had not been advised about any possible destruction in this case."

Third Anti-Gambling Bill OK'd by Governor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The last of three acts designed to break up the multi-million-dollar sports pool betting, numbers writing, horse race bookmaking and spot card rackets has been signed into law by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

The act sets stiffer penalties for sports pool tickets and other arrangements for betting on sports events in formalized fashion.

Castroites Say Parley Is Off; Rebels Say 'No'

U.S. Committeemen To Deliver New 'Decision' on Plan

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Directly contradictory reports persisted today about the future of the committee of prisoners sent here by Fidel Castro. Havana radio said they were preparing to return to Cuba but the prisoners said they were not.

Havana radio, quoting unofficial sources, said, "The Yankee government has caused the negotiations to fail. The committee of prisoners is preparing to return to Cuba today to report on the failure of the negotiations."

The radio also quoted Prime Minister Fidel Castro as blaming the defunct Tractors for Freedom Committee for the failure and saying "the committee wants to cheat and blackmail us."

A spokesman for the prisoners, who declined to be quoted by name, said flatly, "We are not preparing to leave. This is the first we have heard of it and we are continuing to do our best to secure the freedom of our companions. We have no news whatsoever, other than what you have told us."

American officials also said they knew nothing of any plans for the prisoners to go back.

John Hooker Jr., executive secretary of the tractors committee, said he had planned to return to Key West from Miami this afternoon, bringing with him new information for the prisoners. He would not say what the information was.

Monday, Hooker said he expected to have "a decision" by this afternoon on the future of negotiations.

The Cuban broadcast also quoted Castro as saying, "We wanted tractors because they are tools for work. We did not ask for arms or consumer goods. Forty-five million dollars was spent in sowing death. Money could well have been spent on tools for work."

His comments about $45 million was a reference to published reports on the cost of the abortive invasion of April 17.

When the prisoners were sent to Key West Saturday, Castro said their mission was to tell the American people his position in the stalemated negotiations to change the 1,197 prisoners for 500 tractors.

The Cuban radio quoted Castro as saying Cuba was willing to accept agricultural equipment in exchange for the prisoners "providing it is chosen by ourselves."

Castro Friday rejected a take-it-or-leave-it offer of 500 farm tractors from the American committee. He maintained his demands for 500 heavy bulldozers or equivalent value.

Hooker has been the only contact between Castro's prisoners, emissaries and members of the

Commandoes Training for

Jabs in Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An international group of soldiers of fortune is training in the swamps of Florida for commando-type adventures in Cuba, Miami newspapers report.

The band, led by a 6-foot, 7-inch man called Jerry Patrick, is composed of North and South Americans and Europeans. It is called the Intercontinental Penetration Forces.

In a copyrighted story today, the Miami Herald said it pushed news of the force only after Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., disclosed its existence on a nationwide radio network. Until then, the newspaper said it felt the story was within a sensitive area of national policy.

The Miami News reported Monday that the anti-Castro group is training without weapons, living off the land and forming small boat teams to make commando raids on Cuban military targets.

Social Security Expansion OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's bill to increase Social Security benefits has won Senate passage following a promise by Democratic leaders to bring up later this summer a medical care program for the aged.

The measure, passed Monday 90 to 0, now goes to a House-Senate conference committee to iron out minor differences.

It would let men retire at age 62 under Social Security, boost the minimum monthly check from $33 to $40, raise widow's benefits by 10 per cent and add 160,000 persons to benefit rolls.

An expected fight over medical care for the aged failed to develop. A Republican proposal was withdrawn after Democratic assurances the House would conduct hearings on the subject next month.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., chief sponsor of the GOP plan, served notice, however, that he would seek to force a vote on the issue before the 1961 session ends. He said it should not be made a political football in 1962, an election year.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., chief sponsor of the Social Security approach to health care in the Senate, said he, too, strongly hoped for action at this session.

The Social Security bill cleared by the Senate carries out most of Kennedy's recommendations and is quite similar to the House version.

In all, about 4.42 million persons would get new or increased payments totaling $780 million the first year under the legislation.

These would be financed by an increase in the Social Security tax of 1/2 of 1 per cent each on employer and employee, and 3-1/2 of 1 per cent on the self-employed effective next Jan. 1.

The Senate added amendments to the bill increasing by $2.50 a month the amount on which the federal government will match on the old age, blind and disabled public assistance programs; giving the Welfare Department authority to help destitute Americans pushed out of Cuba; and raising slightly the amount an individual retired under Social Security can earn and still draw his benefits.

To pay for the liberalized earnings limitation provision, the Democrats put through an amendment to advance by one year, from 1969 to 1968, the last step 1/2 per cent increase in the Social Security tax provided by present law.

Stickler To Appeal Fraud Conviction

CINCINNATI (AP)—Attorney Leslie D. Stickler plans to appeal his conviction on charges of violating Ohio law on securities.

A jury in common pleas court Monday took less than two hours to find Stickler guilty of giving two $6,000 cognovit notes to Robert Steffen, pizza parlor operator who had loaned Stickler $5,000 twice.

That involved only one of 15 indictments returned against Stickler in what investigators say was an investment fraud involving up to $3 million.

The trial involved charges of selling securities without being registered to sell them.

State Appropriations Bill Booked before Senate Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Democrats had the amendments, but the Republicans had the votes as the $2 billion appropriations bill came out on the Senate floor for a vote today.

It provides the money to run the state government from next Saturday until June 30, 1963—the next two fiscal years.

Democrats are bitterly protesting $16.7 million in appropriations cuts recommended by the Republican-dominated Senate Finance Committee. These are in addition to about $26 million in cuts made in the GOP-controlled House in May.

Frank W. King, D-Lucas, Senate minority leader, indicated Democrats might offer as many as 40 amendments. But Republican senators appeared to be united in determination to get the bill passed—without Democratic support.

There are 20 GOP senators, and 20 votes are needed to pass a bill such as this. There are 18 Democratic senators.

The Senate passed, 37-0, the House-approved bill to exempt chairs, artificial limbs and medical supports for weak portions of the body from the sales tax Monday.

It's estimated the average family will save around $3 a year, and the annual revenue loss to the state will be about $3 million.

The House was in session only about half as long as the Senate, primarily approving bills which came back with Senate amendments.

Representatives voted 106-17 to adopt a toned-down version of a resolution asking a check of the adequacy of teaching materials in Ohio's schools and colleges in presenting a full picture of democracy versus communism.

A Senate - okayed bill which would have allowed Sunday quail shooting under auspices of field trial clubs was defeated by the House 54-68.

The Senate also defeated a bill—an 18-18 tie vote. It would have restored secretary of state to third position and list attorney general last among top elected state officials on ballots and voting machines. This is the way it was before the Democrat-controlled 1959 legislature moved attorney general to third and secretary of state after state auditor.

The idea is that candidates high on the list have a better chance of getting votes. Experience has indicated voting declines on offices listed below the top three, or four,

New Gear for Cars

Seven years ago a New England insurance company unveiled its concept of a "safe" automobile — a standard model car to which its engineers had added inexpensive innovations designed to provide maximum safety for the occupants.

This company (Liberty Mutual Insurance Co. of Boston) has now updated its safety research and introduced "Survival Car II" to the public.

Most of the 24 added safety features are already in various stages of acceptance or experimentation by the auto industry; some are entirely new. But no car now on the highway has all of them.

Judging by the industry's acceptance of the ideas in the insurance company's first safety automobile, there is a good chance that in a few years many cars will be equipped with:

A rectangular steering wheel mounted on a telescoping shaft to provide greater mobility, less chance of kneecap injury and reduce the number of deaths and injuries caused by a stationary steering shaft.

Reinforced capsule seats equipped with both seat belts and shoulder harness straps and providing protection to the head and neck, to prevent the most common causes of injuries in automobile accidents — whiplash neck injuries and a battering from behind tossed inside a vehicle.

An automatic fire control system. Warning devices for long distance driving which include blowing the horn every minute unless the driver cancels it at the signal of a red light, and shutting off the engine if the horn blowing is ignored.

Specially designed tires to provide greater traction.

Power steering and breaking systems, including an auxiliary brake hook-up in case something goes awry in the primary system.

All of these safety features are designed with one point in mind: how to keep occupants of a car from being injured until the day arrives when it will be possible to eliminate or greatly curtail automobile accidents. Traffic experts have reconciled themselves to the fact that traffic accidents will increase each year, as more automobiles take to the highways.

They do not agree it necessarily follows that the one in five drivers involved in accidents last year, or the 1.5 million persons injured or killed must increase their ranks in proportion to the number of vehicles.

Manhattan — Vacation Isle

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—You can't beat an island in the good old summertime.

And the best island — if you want to get away from it all, yet still have it handy — is Manhattan. It's a great place to get lost — or find yourself.

If you want to go abroad without leaving your native land, visit here. The world is at your fingertips. Manhattan is a global summary, a compact index of the earth's tongues and neighborhoods.

There are those who love Manhattan as winter haven. I prefer it as a summer paradise.

As the humidity rises, the humanity recedes. The city's part-time lovers abandon it and flee to seashore and mountain.

They really don't know what they are missing. Mayor Wagner's boys say, "New York is a summer festival." No politician ever thought up a truer sentence.

Now is the best time to buy a ticket to the theater or find a seat in the subway. The cafe society raffraff have flown the town, but the best abides.

The skyscrapers, the shops, the animals in the zoo, the museums, the quaint restaurants on the off-beat streets—these remain.

The difference is in the tempo. The hurried hammer of the city's puls slows from a race to a stroll. Time is more of a friend and less an enemy. Leisure is no longer a stranger. The crowded feeling hasn't an arm around your throat.

There is no hurry to enjoy. What's the rush? Who's to impress? Relax and find what you want. The city does not desert itself. Now is the time it opens its heart to its true lovers. A quiet joy is here to be had.

Many pay a high price to stretch their bones in the sun by 20th Street here are two slowly rotting piers where one can spread a quilt or loll in a deck chair and get a sunburn without cost.

The great libraries are cool cathedrals. You can get the book you want without standing in line. Nobody bumps you on the sidewalk here on Saturday and Sunday in the summer. You have an inside exhilaration, a feeling that the town isn't as large as usual and you are big enough to own it.

Life here in the good old summertime is—if you have the sense of romance to make it so—an air-conditioned picnic without ants, flurry or poison ivy.

Come now and be your own Robinson Crusoe. If you're lucky, you might even find a free parking place.

The Endorsement Game

By George Sokolsky

The mail brings all sorts of things, including a very well printed brochure about endorsements. The brochure fills a great hole in my sum of knowledge.

I have often wondered how a soap, a face powder, a cigarette and even a beer manages to get itself endorsed by all sorts of great men and women. For instance, sometimes I see a man endorsing cigarettes when I know that he only smokes cigars. One day, I shall see an endorsement of a soap by a Beatin'!

So it seems that this is an organized business like everything else in these parts. On Madison Avenue is an agency which finds endorsers. They list all sorts of people as endorsers — the Duchess of Windsor, Eddie Reikenbacker, Betty Palmer, Sherman Billingsley, General Douglas MacArthur. It is said in the brochure that the endorsers are screened as meticulously as the FBI but, it is to be hoped, not for the same reasons. The agency boasts that it has found 10,000 famous persons to endorse 7,500 different products.

Nothing is said in the brochure as to how much an endorser is paid. One may assume that some distinguished persons endorse a product free of charge but that lesser persons are less modest and demand a goodly fee. The brochure says:

"I represented . . . Company gave a $1,000 watch each year to the American who distinguished himself most in service to this country. When MacArthur returned from Japan I phoned him, had to hold the telephone for forty-six minutes, and finally an aide agreed to give me five minutes. General MacArthur agreed to accept it. This was the first and only time that this great American general ever let his name be used in an ad."

Naturally, General MacArthur never did it again, for he is not likely to support any more lost causes.

On one page is said that celebrities fear the collector of endorsements more than gossip columnists. Is that good or bad?

Gossip columnists are only to be feared by the guilty and by restaurant owners who lose customers who prefer to eat their food in peace without a rubber-neck coming up to the table, to make a fifth wheel. Most of their material, however, comes from those who wish to be better known, for good or evil, than they should be. If it makes them happy, let them have their day in paradise!

But why should one fear a collector of endorsers? Of his work, he says:

"He has teams of capable and smart young interviewers who contact celebrities to find out what soaps, toothpaste, automobiles, hair tonic, they actually use; their favorite smokes and drinks."

This is indeed a gay occupation, except when Grace Kelly was used to endorse a soap and later announced that "soap of any kind never touches my face."

Politicians have to be careful about what they endorse. For instance, Vice President Garner used to drink a particular brand of bourbon whiskey. Garner, I am told, no longer drinks whiskey having attained the age of four score and ten and he can do without the stuff. However, I am told that his humor is unimpaired; therefore it is not likely that he will endorse any product, particularly not one on how to keep young at 90.

I found this brochure on endorsements particularly interesting because it gave the show away. I often wondered, as many must do, how these arrangements were made, bringing together the maker of a soap and a good-looking girl whose beauty is a gift from heaven. The politician cannot endorse soap, but he can endorse a cigar or a baby carriage. The latter would be particularly popular for politicians if they were also made in America.

The mail brings its quota each day of the serious things in life—how men and women earn their livelihoods, how they think up gimmicks and devices and how they arrange to take in those who are unwary or are gentle and believe everything that comes their way.

The mail brings circulars from hormone sellers and from members of Congress who have discovered how to save the world; the mail brings fat volumes to which learned men have devoted many years and it will all come to nothing. But rarely does the mail bring anything quite as humorous as this advertisement on how endorsers are recruited. It proves that private enterprise is for the ingenious who produce a scheme a day.

Ohio Education Chief Shuns Another Term

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Attorney Charlton Myers of Marion says the prospect of 12 continuous years of service on the State Board of Education contributed to his decision not run for re-election in November, Education News Service (ENS), reports.

Myers, president of the state board, is one of seven members whose terms expire this year. Only three indicated they will be candidates again, said ENS, a subsidiary of the Ohio Education Association which conducted a poll.

The three are E. E. Meyers of Ironton, Miss Josephine Walker of Cleveland and Robert Walker of Adena.

The other three whose terms expire—the Rev. Russell Hoy, Coshocton, W. G. Foreman, Zanesville, and James W. Collins, Greenfield — expressed reservations about seeking further board service this year, ENS said.

The death last week of William Gammie of Berlin Heights will create an eighth board position to be filled. Gov. Michael V. DiSalle could appoint someone to fill the vacancy through 1961.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A SECRETARY had just been told that she was fired, as of Friday evening, so she spitefully added a few parenthetical comments of her own to one of her boss' standard "alibi" letters. The result:

"Replying to your urgent letter about non-delivery of your order of eleven weeks ago, unforeseen circumstances (I was away playing golf) prevented my answering sooner. Your order was marked for personal attention by our sales manager (he lost it) and he is heart sick at having failed you. (He's still looking for it)."

"Please forgive us: this will never happen again (till next time). Your friendship means too much to us. (This is no kidding, either. You're one of the few customers we have left). Faithfully (like my wife always said before running away with the head shipping clerk) . . ."

"Talk about magicians," notes Judge J. M. Braude. "I know many a wife who's turned an old rake into a lawn mower."

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

Every hot puff turned Joe's feet into ice cubes.

His trouble was Thromboangitis obliterans (TAO) — also called Burger's disease! Its victims usually smoke and shave. TAO rarely strikes women.

Inflammation erupts in larger arteries and veins — usually in the legs. Their lining roughens and blood hardens into clots to block each vessel forever.

Inflammation triggers spasm in normal arteries and blood slows to a trickle. Toes tingle and burn, but feel ice-cold.

Joe bought arch supports because his foot and ankle hurt. But his doctor recognized the trouble when his trained fingertips couldn't feel any pulse on Joe's foot.

Eventually, clots clog most arteries and veins. Short walks bring on sharp pain in the calf. But a few minutes' rest works like a soothing balm.

Sometimes, though, even rest won't relieve muscle cramps. Then, go to bed.

Raise the head part on blocks and gravity will help blood drain down into your legs.

Wear only well-fitted shoes. Loose rubbing breaks down fragile, blood-starved tissue.

Don't paint blisters with iodine or burning chemicals. And, please, no bathroom surgery! Let the surgeon do all cutting.

Keep legs comfortably warm at room temperature. Hot water bottles increase oxygen-need faster than they speed up blood flow. The net loss may be your foot!

Heat your abdomen, chest and back. This warmth relaxes blood vessels in arms and legs.

Exercise! Raise the foot until it whitens, lower until it reddens; then rest it horizontally for a minute. Repeat.

Special tilting beds can do these exercises for you while you rest.

Follow your doctor's advice. He'll prescribe drugs, injections and perhaps an operation to relax large blood vessels in your legs.

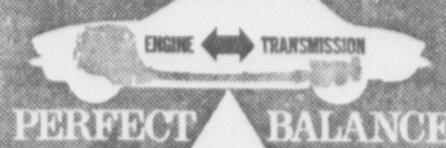

Smoking is out; it tenses vessels. Medicines can prevent new clots from forming.

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Few things worry Americans more than a sudden setback in the stock market. Few things give more of a feeling of well being than a strong bull market.

That may be one reason some people were so optimistic a while back and so cautious and uneasy today.

Both reactions probably are overdue. In recent years the stock market has been a less dependable barometer of the general welfare than it once was. But the feeling holds over, even among those who won't admit it and even among those who don't own stocks.

It's one of many business traditions. Examples: Just as there's supposed to be a summer rally in stocks, so there is supposed to be a February break in commodity prices. Business is supposed to take a siesta in the summer. A general spurt is supposed to follow Labor Day.

Recessions are expected to come along periodically. Recoveries are supposed to be sharp if the recession was quick and deep, and slow if the dip was mild.

The traditions are based on many past instances. But in almost all cases there have been exceptions.

Stocks, more often than not, have risen sometime during the summer—hence the anticipated summer rally. Vacations, a growing thing in industry, usually do cause a slump in activity in some lines—but at the same time there is usually a big jump in the lines that feed on other people's vacations.

The stock market's ups and downs this year have been tied closely to public sensing of things to come. A feeling of confidence helped to send stocks upward, and this in turn sent confidence still higher.

The less speculative buyers were motivated by a feeling that times were due to get better, that more active government stimulants for business might carry with them a chance for renewed inflation, that the goals of general economic growth held opportunities for many business firms, that defense orders would multiply.

More speculative buyers were interested in glamor stocks. A glamor stock is one you buy cheap in the expectation that it will soar. Currently glamor is most closely associated with electronics, missiles, space vehicles.

The general mood carried the indexes of price averages to record highs. Then something happened. There was a disquieting setback. Why?

Technical observers say that prices had been carried so high that in many cases they were discounting corporate growth too far into the future. Hence, the setback—or as the technicians call it, the correction.

Glamor stocks lost some of their glamor when many voices were raised to warn novice speculators of the risks they were taking. The growth chances of many firms got a calmer reappraisal.

The market setback shook the confidence of some traders.

Busy July Faces Ohio

Variety of Events Listed on Calendar

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A variety of events ranging from flower shows, rifle matches and sailboat races are on the calendar for Ohioans during July.

Millions of bright scarlet carnations will be on display at Alliance, the "Carnation City" during the annual Carnation Festival June 28-July 4. Alliance was the birthplace of the official state flower and the city hopes to surpass last year's big celebration.

At Medina, the annual "Sweetest Week" or Honey Festival is set for July 6-8. Ashtabula will inaugurate its first annual Water Sports Festival July 15-23 with all types of aquatic sports and equipment displays on the program. Quaker City in Guernsey County will be the site of the annual southeastern Ohio Hill Folk Festival July 19-22, where a Civil War theme will be added to the entertainment program.

Magnetic Springs will hold its first Ohio Indian Lore Festival July 27-30.

The famed National Rifle Matches will start at Camp Perry July 21 and continue through Aug. 27. Put-In-Bay will be the site of junior race week festivities July 30 through Aug. 5 with thousands of sailboat owners expected during the period. The Interlake Regatta is scheduled there Aug. 6-10.

Other festivals and events slated for summer and autumn in Ohio: Napoleon Tomato Festival Aug. 14, Millersport Sweet Corn Festival Aug. 31-Sept. 2, Jackson County Apple Festival Sept. 20-23, Sugar Creek Swiss Festival Sept. 29-30, Burton Apple Butter Festival Oct. 14-15, Circleville Pumpkin Show Oct. 18-21, Grand American Trapshoot, Vandalia, Aug. 18-26, All-American Soapbox Derby at Akron, Aug. 20, American Golf Class at Akron Aug. 21-27, Ohio State Fair in Columbus Aug. 25-Sept. 1, Farmorama Exposition at Wilmington Sept. 21-23, and Little Brown Jug Harness classic at Delaware Sept. 21.

Space Chief Says U.S. To Beat Russians

WASHINGTON (AP)—The head of the space agency said today he believed the United States will beat the Soviet Union in the race to land men on the moon—using a rocket two-thirds as tall as the Washington monument.

James E. Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Agency, asserted that the goal was to reach the moon before 1970.

He declared that American chances of beating the Soviets are good, despite their successes in lifting heavier booster rockets and payloads into space. The American objective is to land and return a team of three men.

In a copyrighted interview in "U.S. News and World report," Webb declared, "I think that, through the kind of over-all space effort that President Kennedy has recommended—in big boosters, in multimanned spacecraft, in the field of weather, in the field of communications, in the field of navigation, in many other fields—I think, in terms of the ability to solve all the technical problems, this kind of effort will put us there (on the moon) first."

Medics Are Urged To Punish Medics

NEW YORK (AP)—"Physicians must not be afraid to censure or punish their fellow doctors who are guilty" of unethical conduct or incompetence, Dr. Leonard W. Larson, president-elect of the American Medical Association said today.

Speaking at opening sessions of the AMA's House of Delegates, its policy-making body, the Bismarck, N. D., pathologist said only an infinitesimal fraction of doctors fail "to observe the law or the dictates of good conscience."

Grievance committees receive complaints about alleged overcharging, abuse of health insurance, failure to respond to calls, and unnecessary medical service.

Hitler Film Makes Millions But Its Maker Makes Nil

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The documentary film "Mein Kampf" has made millions all over the world. But the man who made it has had no returns as yet.

He is Erwin Leiser, 8, a Swedish intellectual who began two years ago to put together a film account of the rise and fall of Adolf Hitler. The result startled the movie world and has affected social and political thinking.

"The film has been playing in 62 countries," reported Leiser, who is gratified by its success. But his profits have been nil so far.

"Under my contract, I am supposed to get an accounting of the profits every six months," he said. "Last December there were none. At the end of June I will get another report. If there are still no returns, I will have some interesting developments in the courts."

The film has had a strange history in the United States. Producers William Perlberg and George Seaton saw "Mein Kampf" in Copenhagen and praised it highly to Paramount. They sent a print to New York and proposed an English narration by William Holden, who was also enthusiastic about it.

Paramount replied that American wouldn't pay to see a re-counting of Nazi horrors. Columbia snapped the film up for a reported $50,000. It is now expected to gross between $2 million and $3 million in the United States alone.

The man who made "Mein Kampf" is a stocky, balding man who became interested in the project as culture editor for a Swedish newspaper.

"I became acquainted with many persons who had access to the immense amount of footage about the Nazis," Leiser said. He found a producer to finance him and then began the great task of editing the film down to feature length. He served as director and writer.

Why did "Mein Kampf" prove so popular?

"I think it appeals greatly to young people," said Leiser. "They have read about these things in school, but they really can't comprehend them until they see them with their own eyes."

"What they see is real. These things cannot be faked."

There have been other documentaries of Nazi Germany, but they have not had the impact of "Mein Kampf." One reason is undoubtedly ly timing: The revival of interest in nazism spawned by the Eichmann trial. But credit must also be due Leiser's skill as a film maker. A amazingly, "Mein Kampf" was his first movie.

"I used some of the techniques I learned in making radio and TV documentaries in Sweden," he explained. "Mainly, I try to put nothing between the audience and the story. I want them to discover it for themselves."

41 Years Taken To Build Auto

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—An automobile that took 41 years to build is chugging its way back to Vermont.

The car is the final version of the Wasp, a vehicle that once was produced by the Martin Co. of Burlington, Vt. Five were built, a sixth under construction when the firm went broke in 1920.

The sixth car, a jumble of parts, was abandoned at the home of the manufacturer. Eight years ago the parts came to the attention of Harry M. Dodge of Toledo, whose wife lived in Burlington. Dodge, manager of the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co.'s East Broadway plant here, bought what was left of the Wasp and shipped it to Toledo.

Helped by friends, Dodge built radiator, four wheels, a six-cyl. Dodge, who values the completed car at about $10,000, then set out for Vermont. The vehicle, with an engine built in 1920 by the Continental Engine Co., cruises at 45 miles per hour.

More Laws Are Signed By Governor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Cuyahoga and Franklin County appellate courts will get more judges under a law just signed by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

The 8th District Court of Appeals, embracing Cuyahoga County, will have three more judges and one will be added to the 10th District, composed of Franklin County. Each district now has three judges.

The three new judges for Cuyahoga County will be elected for six-year terms next year and begin their duties on successive days starting Jan. 1, 1963. The new Franklin County appellate judge will be elected next fall and start a six-year term Jan. 1, 1963.

The new law authorizes the chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court to assign appellate judges to appeals court districts other than their own. Present law makes acceptance of such assignments optional.

DiSalle said he signed the statute reluctantly.

"I believe the bill is again a temporary patch on a system which needs permanent, long-range planning and more exact standards," he said in a prepared statement.

Other enactments by the legislature signed into law will:

Provide bank robbery penalties for robbing a drive-in cashier or bank messenger outside a financial institution.

Adopt a 1960 standard mortality table for group life insurance premium rates to save an estimated 10.12 per cent on group life insurance premiums.

Authorize domestic life insurance companies to invest capital and surplus in common stocks and securities secured by leaseholds or rentals.

Navy Blimp Fleet To Be Disbanded

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy handed down today a death sentence for its blimp fleet.

It announced that eight of its 10 active airships would be deflated and placed in storage by Nov. 30. The two others will be kept in service until a year from now for research and development work.

The decision was made because of a shortage of funds and personnel "combined with the increasing capability of helicopters and fixed-wing aircraft to perform all necessary anti-submarine and early warning functions," the announcement said.

Tunnel Project Is OK'd

CINCINNATI (AP)—A proposal to issue $35 million in bonds to improve tunnels on the city-owned Cincinnati Southern Railway Monday won backing of the City Council Finance Committee.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is doing best in the fields he knows best: politics and Congress. His biggest setbacks have been in foreign affairs.

There, where his experience is least, he's still an unknown quantity.

The domestic program Kennedy asked Congress to approve is pretty much middle-of-the-road. It's the kind of program Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson might have offered if he had won the presidency. He's a middle-roader, too.

Johnson, when he was the Senate's Democratic leader, was a superb manager, which also means compromiser, in getting action on legislation he wanted. In his 14 years in Congress Kennedy learned the ropes, too.

The result: Kennedy's aides, helped by his personal prodding, have worked hard on the legislators to bless his programs, although this necessary but behind-the-scenes kind of day-to-day chore doesn't make headlines.

Before Congress goes home this summer Kennedy may have suffered complete defeat on some major programs, but his over-all record should look pretty good. It does already.

In foreign affairs—where he has not shown the same kind of sure-footedness he has in domestic matters—he cannot take credit for a single outstanding action.

Because of his performance in his biggest foreign moves so far—Cuba and Laos—former Vice president Richard M. Nixon cracked "timid" at him.

His judgment was bad in approving the half-baked, and therefore disastrous, Cuban invasion. And, while he talked sturdily about stopping the Communist advance in Laos, his follow-through was the essence of mildness.

Other tests, some unimagined now, lie ahead. But the most immediate one, and perhaps the biggest, is a showdown with Premier Khrushchev over Berlin. At the moment he seems firm on this, but pretty quiet.

Of the "big five" major domestic programs Kennedy wanted Congress to approve, he has already won out on three: a huge housing bill, help for depressed areas, and raising the minimum wage.

But the other two—federal aid for schools and old age medical care—he may get exactly nothing. Here is a quick rundown on major items in his domestic record so far—

Passed by Congress and signed into law by Kennedy:

Aid for depressed areas—This $394-million measure is aimed at attracting new industries into areas which need them and retrain workers with skills no longer needed where they are.

Increased minimum wage—This raised the present $1-an-hour minimum to $1.15 this year, or $1.25 in two years, and added 3.6 million workers to the 24 million already covered by the minimum wage requirement.

Help for children of the unemployed—This extends $200 million in federal money to such children.

New federal judgeships—This creates 73 new judgeships—63 district judges, 10 judges for the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Passed by both houses of Congress and either awaiting his signature or delayed temporarily until House and Senate can iron out some differences:

Housing—a four-year program estimated at $4.9 billion.

Social Security improvements—This permits men to retire at 62, raises the minimum monthly payment from $33 to $40, brings an additional 160,000 people on the benefit rolls. An estimated 4,420,000 people will get benefits from increased payments.

Highways—This is intended to achieve completion of the $41-billion, 41,000-mile interstate highway system by 1972.

Taxes—This bill extends for another year the excise taxes on various items—like liquor and automobiles—and continues the corporation tax at 52 per cent.

Still pending:

Foreign aid—This $4.8-billion program is running into trouble, for one reason because Kennedy wants to give aid on a long-range basis instead of for one year.

Still pending and in danger:

Federal aid to schools—The Senate passed a bill on this but now it's locked up in a House committee and may never get passed this year. Still a big stumbling block is whether such aid should go to parochial schools, too. Kennedy opposes aid to church and private schools.

Medical care for the aged—This may wind up in the soup this year, at least.

Farm program—Some kind of program probably will pass, but the one Kennedy offered seemed sure to be badly chopped up.

Complete defeat—Congress said a flat "no" to his request for authority to reorganize the Federal Communications Commission and the Securities and Exchange Commission, two of the government's most important regulatory agencies.

Collections Taken From Paper Carrier

A paper delivery boy had his weekly collections stolen Saturday morning while mowing a lawn on Lynwood Ave.

Steve Bowers, 921 Circle Drive, told Circleville Police approximately $11.50 in a brown money bag was taken from his bicycle after he had made his weekly collections.

The youth said the money bag was clipped to the front fender of his bike.

Bumper Crop of Babies Is Recorded by Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation continues to have a bumper crop of babies.

More were born during the first four months of 1961 than ever before during the comparable period, the Public Health Service estimated today.

The total reached an estimated 1,382,000 registered births during the four months. The old record was 1,362,000 in 1959. Last year there was a drop to 1,340,000.

Miss Jeanette Brigner, Route 1, Williamsport, bride elect of Richard Somers was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Clark Dennis, Mt. Sterling.
Games were played with prizes being awarded to Florence Long, Mrs. Dwight Reid and Mrs. Rapp.
Jeanette opened her gifts seated under a pink and white umbrella.
Refreshments were served to guests from Columbus, Washington, C. H. New Holland, Atlanta, Mt. Sterling, Williamsport and Five Points by the hostesses, Mrs. Elbee Jones, Mrs. John Brigner and Mrs. Clark Dennis.
Miss Brigner and Mr. Somers are to be married Saturday at the Five Points Methodist Church.

A standard quick bread recipe that is baked in a large loaf pan (about 9 by 5 by 3 inches) may be baked in two small loaf pans (about 7 by 3 by 2 inches). A moderate oven is used for both types of pan; the large loaf will need about 1 hour baking time, the small loaves about half an hour.

Culinary Charmers

SUNDAY SUPPER

This frozen dessert is refreshing and convenient to have on hand.
Curried Chicken with Rice
Chutney Salad Bowl
Fresh Cherry Sherbet

FRESH CHERRY SHERBET

4 cups sugar
2 cups water
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
4 cup cold water
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/4 cup lemon juice
1/8 teaspoon salt
2 egg whites
2 cups finely chopped pitted dark sweet cherries

Boil sugar and water together for five minutes; remove from heat; cool slightly. Soften gelatin in cold water; dissolve in hot syrup with lemon rind and juice. Pour into 2-4 cup ice-cub trays. Place in freezer until mushy; turn into mixing bowl with salt, unbeaten egg whites and cherries. With electric mixer beat at high speed until fluffy. Return to freezing trays and freeze until firm. Allow to stand at room temperature for 5 minutes before serving. Makes 8 servings. (About 1 1/4 pounds cherries will be needed.)

Don't use scratchy cleaners on heat - resistant glass baking dishes! Wash with soap or detergent and hot water.

Local Residents
Enjoy Vacation Trip

Mr. and Mrs. James Humphry, E. Franklin St. have returned from a vacation trip which took them over the Skyline Drive in Virginia.

They toured the restored town of Williamsburg, Va. and other places of interest including William and Mary College.

They traveled on to Jamestown where they saw the exact replicas of the three ships that brought the first English settlers here. They crossed the famous Yorktown toll bridge and saw many other historical points of interest. Returning home they visited Fredericksburg and Warrentown, Va.

Robtown EUB
To Hear Recital
By Miss Hott

MISS GRETCHEN HOTT

Miss Gretchen Hott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hott, Route 3, will present a piano recital at 8 p. m. Saturday in the EUB Church in Robtown.

Miss Hott is a pupil of Miss Miriam Ward and has attended the Summer Music Clinic at Capital University.

She participated in the Ohio Music Educators Association District piano contest where she received a superior rating for her performance.

A junior at Scioto High School, Miss Hott has served as accompanist for various schools musical organizations and for the county music festival. She is also organist and pianist at the church in Robtown.

'MRS.' WAS AMISS—Sandra Sartof, 21, a fashion worker, looks pleased in Cleveland as she holds her discharge papers in the matter of being wife of Kenneth Cosnik, 24. She knew him four months, but maybe not well enough, when they were married. This is 24 days after that. She said he moved into her apartment and just collected unemployment compensation, saying anyone was silly to work when he could do that.

Like to serve shrimp with a cocktail sauce made from catsup, lemon juice and horseradish. For extra flavor and savor, add a dash of celery salt.

Dear Abby...
By Abigail VanBuren

His Taste Is Jaded

DEAR ABBY: My husband of nine years doesn't believe in kissing. He says it is unsanitary. He wasn't bothered by this unsanitary before we were married. I don't know whether you can believe this or not, but he is by nature a very affectionate person. He is always hugging and squeezing me, and he shows me a lot of devotion, but he just skips the kissing part. How can I get him to kiss me?

WANTS TO BE KISSED
DEAR WANTS: Are you kissing sweet? Is he? Some men avoid kissing because they are conscious of their own cigarette or beer breath. Don't sit around "wanting to be kissed." Kiss HIM! He might develop a taste for it again.

DEAR ABBY: What is a wife supposed to think when her husband comes home and tells her that his secretary hit her knee on a file cabinet and she sat down and cried while he bandaged it for her? We have been married for 25 years, and I'm quite sure if it had been MY knee, I'd have had to bandage it myself.

WOLF'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: What better proof could you want that your husband is NOT a wolf? If he were, he could huff and puff and she'd never have let him near her knee.

DEAR ABBY: My teen-aged daughter is simply driving me crazy. She has one of the most beautiful heads of hair you could ever hope to see—but the way she wears it is just terrible. It is all ratted and matted and stiff with spray. It looks like a wig. And she looks like an old lady. She is only 17, Abby, and this is something she and I have been going around about for almost a year. Do you think I should let her do what she wants with her hair? She would be strikingly beautiful if only she would take

Two County Horses Get Harness Wins

Two Pickaway County harness horses went in solid time to cop wins at Scioto Downs last night.

Dottie's Time, owned by Mrs. Anna Helvering of Circleville, covered the mile in 2:06 4/5 for first place in the sixth race class C pace. Driven by Emmitt Ebenhack, Dottie's Time enriched her owner by $600.

Jimmy Mace, returning to the Midwest after a swing through Eastern tracks, piloted Desert Sand to win the eighth race C pace in 2:07 time. The horse is owned by the Metzger family of William-sport.

Ford Collects 13th Victory For Yankees

Whitey Has Defeated Every Other Team In American League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southpaw Whitey Ford won his 13th and became the first pitcher to beat every club in the American League as the New York Yankees outclubbed the Los Angeles Angels 8-6 Monday night. It was the only game scheduled in the AL and moved the Yankees within one game of first place Detroit.

In the National, the Philadelphia Phillies beat San Francisco, 1-0, behind the eight-hit pitching of Jim Owens and Dallas Green, and Milwaukee defeated St. Louis 9-6 in the only games scheduled.

A three-run homer by Bill Skowron with two out in the ninth gave the Yankees their only lead against the Angels and beat reliever Jim Donohue (1-2) in a battle of home runs at cozy Wrigley Field.

Albie Pearson, Steve Bilko and ex-Yankee Ken Hunt homered off Ford, giving the Angels 1-0, 3-1, 5-3 and 6-5 leads. But the Yankees blasted back against starter Ken McBride on home runs by Mickey Mantle, his 23rd, and pinch-hitter Johnny Blanchard and a two-run single by Yogi Berra. Skowron's winning shot, following walks to Roger Maris and Mantle, came off right-hander Art Fowler. It was the Yanks' 101st home run, top total in both leagues.

Ford (13-2), gave up six hits and walked four, but fanned seven in eight innings, upping his AL-leading strikeout total to 100. Lefty Luis Arroyo mopped up 1-23 in the ninth.

Owens, who quit the Phils' spring camp in a huff when he figured he was being overlooked by Manager Gene Mauch, gave up four hits, walked two and struck out four in his first start for the Phils. He went six innings, then admitted he "ran out of gas."

The Phils managed just four hits off loser Jack Sanford (3-5) and Stu Miller, scoring in the fourth on a triple by Don Demeter and a single by Charlie Smith.

Joe Adcock rapped a two-run homer, capping a six-run third inning for the Braves, and then singled home the deciding run in the fifth. Larry Jackson (3-5) was the loser while Lew Burdette (7-5) won his third in a row, with relief help from Don McMahon when the Cards broke loose for four runs on six consecutive hits in the ninth.

Local Swim Team 'To Wet Feet' In Friday Match

The 40-plus members of Circleville Swimming Club's newly-formed aquanaut squad will experience their first inter-club competition at 6:30 p. m. Friday at Mt. Vernon's Community Pool.

Members, who range in age from 9 to 17, will work out from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. each day the rest of the week to prepare for the meet which "will get the club's feet wet, literally and competitively," according to pool director Robert Ransom.

The swimmers are under the coaching of Charles Ransom. Practice session have been held frequently for the last two weeks.

Plans call for the team to leave from the local pool about 3 p. m. Friday. Robert Ransom asked that persons able to assist in transporting the water enthusiasts contact him.

Five of Michigan State's 161 football rivals — Wisconsin, Michigan, Notre Dame, Purdue and Northwestern — have been Spartan grid foes for more than 40 years.

18-Strikeout Feat by Lovett Tops Babe Ruth League Card

Wendell Lovett missed by only three batters of having an almost perfect pitching performance as Kiwanis dropped Ashville 2-0 last night in a Babe Ruth Major contest at Ted Lewis Park.

Lovett struck out 18 of the 21 Bronco Boosters batters that were put out over the seven-inning stint. Roof bounced out to first in the opening stanza. In the last inning he was thrown out, rightfielder to first base.

Mallory lined out to Lovett in the first. The star K club hurler permitted singles by Bob Roof in the third, a double by Ferguson in the fourth and a one-bagger by Bob Kuhlwein in the sixth.

Lovett whiffed the side in all but the first and last innings. He issued only four walks.

THE Kiwanians tallied both of their runs in the second frame on singles by Harry Hill and Jeff Ankrom. Hill registered two more one-baggers during the tilt and Howard Dade belted a double in the fifth to complete Kiwanis batting.

Savings Bank outlasted the Third National outfit to pick up a 16-8 victory in BR minor play.

The game started as an old-fashioned slugfest, with Savings clinging to a shaky 7-6 lead after the first. Both squads added two counters in the second inning.

A sudden transformation came over the contest after the second frame, though. Jerry Cole, Savings moundsman, settled down to hold to Third to one hit and no runs over the last four stanzas.

The Savings nine backed him with double counters in the fourth and fifth and a trio in the sixth to double the final results.

John Magill garnered a double, Cole a triple and Huffman a three-bagger for the winners. Savings had a 14-hit total. Shelby McManus suffered the loss for Third National.

Mike Bowman, with two singles, was the only Third player with more than one safety.

Indians To Host Faltering Nats

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, who are familiar with losing streaks, play the Washington Senators, owners of a 10-game losing spell, in the opener of a four-game series tonight.

Dick Stigman (1-0) is Cleveland's starting hurler as the Indians hope to get back into the American League pennant fight after ending their seven-game losing skid. They broke the downward slump with a second-game victory over Detroit Sunday.

Ed Hobaugh (4-3), who holds a triumph over the Indians, will hurl for the Senators.

The teams play a two-night doubleheader Wednesday evening and a night contest Thursday.

Lima Longshot Wins Scioto Downs Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Civil Defense, a 25-1 shot owned by Bernie Smith of Lima and driven by Morrie Smith, was timed in 2:07 4/5 in winning the featured Class C pace at Scioto Downs Monday night. Civil Defense paid $54.80.

Two other long shots placed and showed Frisco Peters returning $13.40 for the second spot and First Brother paying $9.80 for third.

Greater Cincy Airport Gets Soundproof Hotel

CINCINNATI (AP) — It takes only a few steps now to go from the terminal at Greater Cincinnati Airport to a soundproof hotel. The $1.5 million Barkley House opened Monday with 100 rooms, a swimming pool, restaurant and six business conference rooms.

Coke Racks Up 27-7 Triumph

Bottlers Blast 31 Blows against AL

Six men slugged out four hits each as Coca-Cola converted a Little Major League game last night into its own private batting practice. The Coke boys buried American Legion under a spectacular 31-hit attack to win 27-7.

In Little Minor lop action, Savings Bank complemented the win of their Babe Ruth League brethren, defeating Rotary by a decisive 11-1 mark on Pontious's two-hitter.

Coca-Cola jumped off to a first-inning 2-0 lead on Jim Barnes' double. In the second they counted five more and came up with another pair in the third. George Hill shut the Legion outfit out on four safeties through the first three frames.

The AL squad broke out a two-run scoring effort on Steve Carralls' two-base blow in the top of the fourth to narrow the gap to 9-2.

THE soft drink nine put their triumph on ice in the bottom of the fourth on eight big tallies registered on nine hits. Steve Dade and Barnes both belted twin safeties in the uprising.

In the fifth Coke outdistanced the Legion seven runs to three. The last inning produced three additional runs for Coca-Cola to a single marker for the Legionnaires.

Tom Wright, Rick Congrove, George Hill, Steve Dade, Jim Barnes and Roy Sark blasted a quartet of hits each to lead the victory.

Hill went the route for the win and Jim Moorehead endured a six-inning pounding in absorbing the loss. Dan Dahl was Legion's leading man at the plate, collecting a double and single.

Savings Bank, after picking up one run in the first and three in the third, cut loose for four markers in the fourth on Charles Smith's home run shot. They finished their scoring in the last frame of the five-inning scrap, marking three counters on a trio of singles.

Rotary could manage only a single by Tom Lutz in the second and another one - base blow by Rick Keydon in the third against Pontious.

THE clubmen registered their only run in the fourth on a walk to Dick Davis with a two-base error on Lutz's grounder.

Gary Dumm was charged with the pitching defeat. Pontious fanned twelve men in going the distance in victory.

$2 Wager Returns $39,412 Loot

BOSTON (AP) — An unidentified person won $39,412 on a $2 bet at Suffolk Downs Monday but had to wait an agonizing five minutes before he could be sure of the loot.

The lucrative payoff, on a twin double, was made possible by Jeddah Chant, $36 winner of the seventh race.

A foul claim was lodged against Jeddah Chant.

The stewards needed five minutes of consultation and a review of the movies before they disallowed the charge.

The payoff was described as an American record on a $2 bet.

Previous high was $35,758.80 on a $2 twin double bet at this track last May 24.

Ewell Blackwell, former Cincinnati pitching ace, scored the first hole-in-one of his golfing career at the Rocky Point course in Tampa, Fla., this spring. He shot a 74.

Reds Ready To Try Out Kid Catcher

CHICAGO (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, high atop the National League, have elected to try out a rookie catcher, John Edwards, to see if he can add some hitting to the lineup.

The Reds Monday swapped Bob Schmidt to the Indianapolis affiliate for Edwards, highly-regarded 23-year-old who was signed for a bonus from Ohio State University in 1958.

Manager Fred Hutchinson said earlier this year he wanted to carry three catchers, but a shaky infield situation early in the season and trade of first string receiver Ed Bailey to San Francisco cut the number of catchers to two—Schmidt and Jerry Zimmerman.

Edwards was to join the Reds here before today's game against the Chicago Cubs, who overshadow the Reds 5-3 in games played so far.

Sherman (Roadblock) Jones, 26-year-old relief pitcher from the Reds' Jersey City affiliate, was also to join the team here after a swap for Marshal Bridges.

The Reds, who have played as well while traveling on the road as at home, are to play 14 of their next 16 games on the road.

Rookie Ken Hunt was to open against the Cubs today, opposed by Dick Ellsworth.

Darrrtown Is Host to Alston's Bums

DARRTOWN, Ohio (AP) — It was a small mob scene in Darrrtown Monday when the Los Angeles Dodgers players, officials and even newsmen took a holiday in the hometown of manager Walt Alston.

There was some impromptu fiddle music by Walt's father, Emmons, aided by outfielder Gordon Windhorn who found a guitar and chimed in.

The guests rode Walt Alston's horses, played pool at his home and ate a dinner prepared by ladies of the Methodist church, since Alston's own home could not care for all.

The only baseball in evidence was a backyard game involving Walt's grandson, Robby, 7, and neighborhood youngsters of this village, population 293.

Enroute back to Cincinnati, the group stopped at the Middletown Gun Club for some trapshooting and that's where Alston shone. Walt, who spends some of the off-season hunting, broke 23 of 25 birds.

Return to Cincinnati was held up while coach Leo Durocher was found. He had wandered off to a Middletown store to buy some haberdashery for his son, Chris.

The Dodgers were to fly out of Cincinnati for Pittsburgh today, to resume the National League chase against the Pirates tonight.

U.S. Thinclads Shun Journey

7 Standouts Refuse To Go Abroad

NEW YORK (AP)—The refusal of seven eligibles to make the trip for Olympic-style track and field meets against the Soviet Union, West Germany, England and Poland next month could cost the United States at least one victory in Moscow, AAU officials conceded today.

"It's disappointing not to be able to send our strongest team abroad," said Pinky Sober, chief of the track and field committee. "Actually, the team will not suffer much except in the hammer throw."

The first and second place finishers in the national championships last weekend all were offered spots in the team.

But Ron Morris, the pole vault winner; Dallas Long and Parry O'Brien, 1-2 in the shotput; Harold Connolly and Al Hall, 1-2 in the hammer throw, and Al Oerter and Rink Babka, 2-3 in the discus throw, all refused to make the trip.

Most of them complained that they couldn't

3. Lost and Found

LOST — 1952 Williamsport Class ring in vicinity of W. T. Grant Co., with initials of M. N. Reward. Phone GR 4-4211.

In loving memory of our beloved husband, father and grandfather, Harry W. Riddle who passed away one year ago today, June 27, 1961.

In a graveyard softly sleeping,
Where the flowers softly wave,
Lies the one we loved so dearly,
But whom we could not save.
God knows how much we miss him,
He counts the tears we shed,
And whispers that he only sleeps,
Your loved one is not dead.
How we miss the welcome footsteps
Of the one we loved so dear,
Of times we listen for his coming,
Fully sure that he is near.
Thou art gone but not forgotten,
Fresh our love will ever be,
For as long as there is a memory,
We will always think of thee.
If all the world's ours to give,
We'd give it, yes and more,
To see the face of the one we loved,
And have him back once more.
Sadly missed by wife, Cora, children and grandchildren.

We wish to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks to relatives, friends and neighbors for their sympathy, kindness, cards and the many beautiful flowers, during the illness and death of our dear husband and father, Herman R. Riddle, Sr., our special thanks to Dr. Warren R. Hoffman, the Eastern Funeral Home and Rev. Morgan and Jerry Rasmussen.

Wife, Bertha; Daughters, Mervelyn and Velma; Sons, Herman R. Jr., and Doyle.

Redleg Trading Gambles Provide Winner So Far

CINCINNATI (AP)—Trading in the baseball market is a gamble. Since taking over the Cincinnati Reds, General Manager Bill DeWitt has gambled and so far is a winner.

The Reds are high in the National League pennant chase thanks to the maneuvers of DeWitt, who went from office boy to ticket seller to executive in a long American League career. His last AL job was as president of the Detroit Tigers before switching to the Reds after the 1960 season.

DeWitt's first deal for the Reds could prove to be the one that gives Cincinnati the momentum to cop the flag.

It was a three-way job engineered last December. DeWitt dealt shortstop Roy McMillan, one of the game's top fielders, to Milwaukee for pitchers Joey Jay and Juan Pizarro. Then he swapped Pizarro and pitcher Cal McLish to the Chicago White Sox for third baseman Gene Freese.

"We needed a third baseman and we figured McMillan was expendable," said DeWitt. "We gambled that Eddie Kasko or Leo Cardenas could handle the job at short and also gave us added hitting."

"McMillan was 30 and McLish 35. We got Freese who is 27 and Jay who is 25. You don't often get hurt when you trade age for youth."

Without tampering with the youthful pitching staff anchored by veteran Bob Purkey and backed by relievers Bill Henry and Jim Brosnan, DeWitt added Jay to the staff, had himself a front line third baseman and upped the batting productivity at short.

Now the Reds found they had a problem at second base. Neither Jim Baumer nor Elio Chacon was the answer. DeWitt learned he could get Don Blasingame from the Giants.

"They wanted one of our relief men or catcher Ed Bailey," said DeWitt. "We had no intention of disrupting our staff which we think is the best in the league. So it had to be Bailey."

Bailey went to the Giants for Blasingame and catcher Bob Schmidt. Blasingame took over at second and with Gordy Coleman at first, Cincinnati had an infield.

Manager Fred Hutchinson sums it up this way: "We knew Freese had difficulties with the White Sox. . . . We got him to throw the ball instead of aiming it and he's done the job. He hits the long ball and drives in plenty of runs."

"Kasko might not have the range of some shortstops but he has good hands and one of the best arms in the game. Blasingame has pulled our infield together."

"Coleman is not the greatest fielder in the world but he's willing to work and learns fast." Rookie catcher Jerry Zimmerman has been a pleasant surprise. His fine defensive work has helped the youthful hurling staff.

Although Freese and Coleman's real power comes from the outfield in which Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson are fixtures. Wally Post and Gus Bell—both long ball hitters—alternate in the third spot.

Then, the Reds have a good bench where they can call on Jerry Lynch, one of the game's best pinch hitters.

Add determination and desire, and you have the reasons why the Reds — from DeWitt to batboy Bill Ferguson — feel Cincinnati has a great chance to win its first pennant in 21 years.

Jacobs-Stevenson Five Paces Loop

The Jacobs-Stevenson combo used a high singles score of 656 as their biggest boost on the way to a top 1,870 series in the latest Mixed Couples Summer League competition at Prairie Lakes.

Bill Gibbs cracked 200 with 10 points to spare in pulling down high men's one-game honors. Dan Leonhardt rolled a 594 for the men's best series.

Betty Jacobs was in peak form as she hit top singles and three-game women's marks of 174 and 485.

It was a "good" night in the split conversion department. Bob Good hit the 5-4-7 setup, Ken Good the 5-8-10 and Kathleen Good the 5-10. Bruce Stevenson brought down the 5-6 and 3-10 splits. Pat Dresbach bested the 5-10.

Wheat Grower
Referendum
Delay Is Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — It appeared probable today that a grower referendum on the 1962 wheat program will have to be postponed by Congress beyond the legal deadline of July 24.

This probability was based on the assumption that Congress, acting upon Kennedy administration recommendations, will authorize a tighter control program for the coming year to halt the overproduction of wheat.

Agriculture Department officials said today that even if Congress acts speedily, there would not be enough time to acquaint growers with details of a new program by July 24.

If no new program is provided, officials said they could go ahead and hold the referendum on the present program on July 24 because growers are acquainted with it.

The administration has proposed a program for next year which would require growers to reduce plantings 10 per cent from the present production base. The growers would get payments on the idled acres and higher price supports.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today that 4 per cent fewer feeder and stock cattle and calves were shipped into the Midwestern corn belt in May than a year ago, 339,000 head compared with 352,000.

Shipment of stock and feeder sheep and lambs into the corn belt during the five-month period totaled 793,000 head, down 10 per cent from a year earlier. Only South Dakota, Minnesota, Michigan and Ohio received more this year.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today that prospects point to a larger apple crop this year than last year's below average crop. First official forecast will be given in a crop report July 11.

By regions, the outlook for 1961 is: eastern states, a crop up sharply from last year and about the same as the above average 1959 crop; central states, production above average, and western states, a crop larger than last year though still below average.

Rev. O. F. Gibbs has been returned as pastor of the First Evangelical United Brethren Church but several changes in pastoral assignments of other EUB churches of southeastern Ohio were made at the closing conference of the North and South districts at Columbus Friday.

Among the changes was the transfer of Rev. Robert Miller from the Tyler Memorial Church, Chillicothe, to the Boulevard church, Portsmouth, and the Rev. Kenneth Brown from Blackoak to the Hallsville-Coleman charge.

Following is the list of assignments in the Circleville area.

Clarence O. Leach, Amanda; John Morgan, Ashville; Fred Brown, Cedar Hill; Gerald Niswender, Circleville Calvary; Kenneth Brown, Hallsville; Wayne Fowler, Laurelville First; Maxine Krisher, Laurelville, Floyd Adams, Pickaway County; Charles Jenkins Jr., Stoutsville; and Clyde Hinton, Yellowbud.

Oxford Honor Camp
Pair Sought by Police

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Police spread a hunt today for Eugene Stewart, 31, of Cincinnati, and James E. Davis, 34, Maysville, Ky. They walked away from the state prison honor camp near Oxford early Monday, the state highway patrol reported.

4 Latin American
Women Will Visit
In City, County

Four of 12 women from Latin American countries coming to Central Ohio Friday are scheduled to visit in Circleville and Pickaway County.

The 12 women are from 12 different Latin American nations. Their tour in the United States is part of the "Latin American Women's Project on Social Welfare and Public Health."

The project was instituted by the United States Congress "to promote a better understanding of the U. S. in other countries and to increase mutual understanding between the people of the United States and other countries."

The project is under the auspices of the United States Department of State and has been arranged by the American Council on Education. The central Ohio portion of the project is sponsored by the Ohio Trefoil Girl Scout Council because of the Girl Scouts' interest in international relations.

Initial arrangements were made by Miss Ruth Shollenbarger, executive director of the Council, with her friend, Miss Mary V. Cannon, chief, International Division, Women's Bureau, Department of Labor.

The 12 women, with one Department of State officer and three interpreters, will arrive at Port Columbus 5:23 p. m. on Friday. After staying overnight in Columbus, they will divide into three groups to spend three days in Circleville, Delaware and Marysville.

The coordinator for the group in Circleville is Mrs. Sterling Poling. The four Latin American women coming to Circleville are Mrs. Maria Teresa de Aguirre of Bolivia, Miss Rosa Araque Romero of Ecuador, Mrs. Lucymar Rebello da Costa Lima of Brazil, and Miss Graciela Cruz Salazar of Mexico. The interpreter with them is Mrs. Lili Packer.

The women arrived in Washington D. C. on May 21. Traveling by bus, train and plane they have gone to Penland, N. C.; Knoxville, Tenn.; Chicago, Ill.; Santa Fe, N. M.; Grand Canyon, Ariz.; San Francisco, Calif.; Denver, Colo.; and St. Joseph, Mo.

They will depart from Port Columbus July 5, with New York City and San Juan, Puerto Rico still on itinerary. They will leave from home from Miami, Fla., on July 19. While in Circleville the Latin American visitors will attend the Fourth of July celebration at Ashville, tour several local industries, visit farms, attend a family reunion and inspect the facilities at Ted Lewis Park. They also will be entertained in several homes by local families.

Story Attends
Hope Furnace Fete

W. W. Story, an engineer at the local DuPont plant who lives at 125 Seyfert Ave., participated in dedication of an Ohio Historical Marker Sunday at the site of ancient Hope Furnace at Lake Hope.

Story was a representative of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers. The Society acted in conjunction with the Ohio Historical Society and the Ohio Division of Parks for the dedication.

The Hope Furnace is only one of the pioneer iron furnaces to be marked. A similar marker is being placed at the site of the Buckeye Furnace in Jackson County, another of some 70 early iron furnaces which from about 1815 to until well after the Civil War made the southern Ohio area known as the "Ruhr of Ohio".

Ashville

Mrs. Clara Rihl underwent surgery Friday morning in Mercy Hospital, Columbus, after being confined there this past week undergoing tests.

Jack Messick remains seriously ill in Mt. Carmel Hospital after undergoing surgery June 14. At this time he is allowed no visitors but would appreciate receiving mail.

Major and Mrs. Ben Jennings and Ron and Nancy are visiting several days with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Purcell and family. The Jennings were former residents of Ashville before being transferred to Omaha, Neb. They are now in the process of transferring to Washington, D. C. where Jennings will be on duty at the Pentagon.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Willis and Jim are vacationing several days this week in Michigan. While they are gone, Mrs. Edith Willis of Columbus is staying at their residence on Scioto St. and visiting with all of her old neighbors and friends.

CONNIE SUE MORRISON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morrison, is recovering at home after having her tonsils removed June 15.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sherman and Carole and Brad are vacationing in New York.

Judy Foreman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence (Red) Foreman, suffered a broken leg Thursday while playing at the home of a neighbor. After receiving x-rays at Berger Hospital she was treated by a local physician. Her leg has been placed in a cast.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Neff, and Larry, Route 2, Ashville, have been spending the past two weeks vacationing in Texas.

Eisenhower Has Real Ball at GOP Fund-Raising Session

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—The nice thing about being president is what happens once you get out of office.

A big "welcome home" party was held for Dwight D. Eisenhower Monday night. During it the former president gave glimpses of an Eisenhower no one saw, or even suspected, during his eight years in the White House.

Who would have thought that Eisenhower, so long hovered over by Secret Service men, would give out autographs so generously that admirers would jam about him until it looked like a junior grade mob scene?

Or that he would leap nimbly to his feet and, along with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, join a male chorus in singing a parody, "Jack the Knife," mildly poking fun at President Kennedy?

Or that he would have Negro waiters line up for him to shake hands in a personal demonstration of how Republicans can win friends and presumably influence voters?

Through it all, Eisenhower acted as if he were having a ball.

This was a money-raising affair. Tickets cost $109.50, with $9.50 going for food and $100 going to the GOP.

At such a price, there were serious moments, of course.

Eisenhower took a dim view of Kennedy's legislative plans.

"Now for the school program, I can't describe it, and the farm program that's been offered Congress, it's even more of a monstrosity," Eisenhower said.

He sized up the new administration thus:

"The picture of government, as I see it, is of a gigantic Santa Claus, and we're dancing around the Christmas tree, hoping for our presents. But each package is marked in fine print, so we don't have to read it, 'you don't have to pay for this, but your grandchildren will.'"

But while Eisenhower went about his chores relaxed and folksy, Nixon was businesslike as usual.

Nixon returned to a theme he used when he first broke his self-imposed silence on the Kennedy administration more than a month ago.

Nixon's thesis: that Kennedy has failed in foreign affairs because he has been "talking big and acting little."

"We never had an administration," Nixon said, "that talked more courageously and eloquently and acted more timidly than the one we have today."

This, Nixon insisted, encourages the Soviet Union's Nikita Khrushchev.

"Today we find Mr. Khrushchev is more arrogant, more cocky and more belligerent," Nixon said.

He got a big hand from the 1,500 diners when he added: "The eight years of Dwight Eisenhower were successful in keeping the peace, and keeping it without surrender of principle."

But mostly this was like an overgrown — and overly plump — neighborhood party.

Eisenhower was given a bust of himself.

Mrs. Eisenhower studied the bronze critically and then said: "It looks like he's got a lot of hair."

Eisenhower laughed so heartily that the place where his hair used to be got very red.
